

Creating a Free Press in Eastern Europe

Table of Contents

---

Whose Voice? Freedom of Speech and Media in Central Europe

After the Wall: Women and News Media Practices in the Context of Political Change

The Emergence of Free Press in Albania

Investigative Reporting in Bulgaria: A Postponed Renaissance

Reversal of Fortunes: Rehabilitations and Counter-Purges in Bulgaria

The New Papers in the Czech Republic: Growing Pains

The Unfinished Revolution: Czech Republic's Press in Transition

The English-Language Press in Prague, the Czech Republic

Optimism, Pessimism and Paradox: Broadcast Press Freedom in Slovakia

Major Trends in the Czech Mass Media After November 1989

The Broadcasting Law: First Step in Defining Media Policy for Czech Republic

Poland Gets a Crash Course in Advertising

Applying Europe's "First Amendment" to Romanian Libel and Access Law

FIEJ and the Forming of Newspaper Publishers' Associations in Central and Eastern Europe

Print Media Privatization: Ownership, Distribution and Production

Moving Forward with the Free Press in Central and Eastern Europe